EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- In Manicaland province, traditional leaders are reportedly exercising extra legal powers to evict villagers from their communal homes on the basis that they do not support the ruling party. In some instances, burial space is also denied.
- Some police officers are allegedly harassing members of the public who they view to be supporters of the opposition MDC. In Harare, for instance it was reported that police ordered a citizen to take off an MDC t- shirt.
- The price reductions launched in June 2007 have resulted in increased victimization of persons criticizing the activity. People are being harassed for expressing discontent with the current economic environment. Some cases were recorded in Midlands.
- Denial of aid in the form of food is rampant with a significant number of cases being documented in Mashonaland West, Manicaland and Matebeleland south.
- Civil society organizations are facing increasing threats in accessing rural areas for the purposes of conducting human rights workshops. ZPP documented incidents involving CIVNET in Manicaland and ZESN and the Women's coalition in Masvingo as they could not get clearance from the police.
- Members of the United Peoples Party (UPP) have reportedly been harassed by both MDC and Zanu PF supporters in Bulawayo. UPP members are labelled Zanu PF 'puppets' while in Masvingo they were labelled opposition members.
- In Manicaland Province, they have been reports that in some provinces nurses are using political affiliation to discriminate against those members not supporting the ruling party.
- Farm invasions have resurfaced in some provinces including Masvingo and Mashonaland East. Farm invasions resulted in the death of one Zanu PF member at Stock hill farm.
- In Mashonaland West, gender based violence has also been recorded with one youth having been raped by three Zanu PF youths. The use of rape as a political weapon to punish the fathers, brothers and husbands of women is deplorable.
- In Mashonaland Central, people were harassed for wanting to benefit from Operation 'Maguta scheme' while they do not support the ruling party. According to the Zanu PF supporters government initiated projects should benefit those who support the current government.
- The redressive operations such as 'operation hlalani kuhle' and 'operation maguta' are heavily politicized. In Mashonaland West, it is reported that some beneficiaries of operation 'hlalani kuhle' who are not sympathetic to the ruling party are under threat of eviction from the project. Eleven families have so far been evicted in Mashonaland Province alone.
- Access to information in the sense of hearing an alternative voice is severely limited in the current environment. There are reports that people are being harassed for reading Newspapers from the independent media such as The Zimbabwean and listening to Short Wave Radio and Studio seven. In Mashonaland Central one person was harassed for reading a ZESN pamphlet.
- ZPP has received reports that the mobile registration which is being done by the Registrar's office has been politicised. Some persons viewed as supporting the opposition have been denied access to procure documents and also register to vote.
- The wearing of MDC t-shirts, and t- shirts from NGOs and red colours in the form of caps, has resulted in the harassment of some persons in Harare.

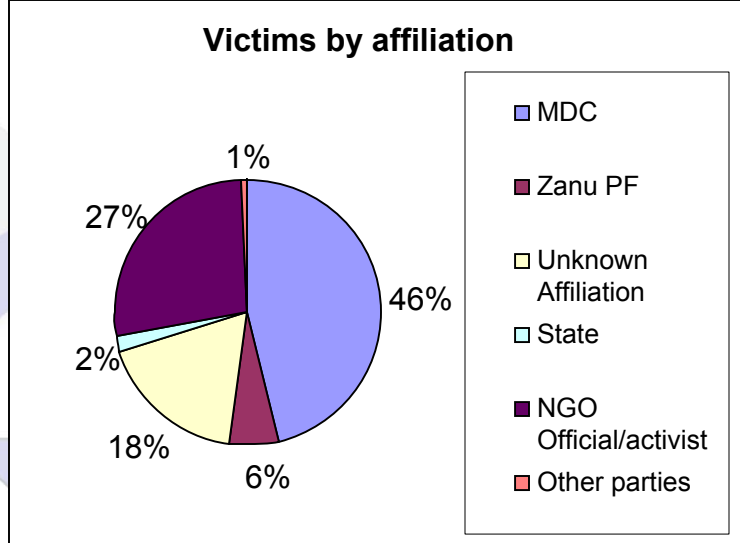

- Intra party violence within the two major parties has reportedly increased with cases being recorded in Bulawayo between the anti- senate and pro- senate factions of the opposition MDC and Masvingo between members of the ruling party.
- Some cases have been documented in Mashonaland east of persons being denied registration during the mobile voter registration exercise. The perpetrators have been groups of Zanu PF youth while those suspected to be supporters of the opposition have been victimised.
- In Mashonaland East, it is reported that those not supporting the ruling party have been denied information and services to registers as voters in the Mobile registration exercise.

Perpetrator analysis June 2007

The reports received indicate that the ruling party Zanu PF is the main perpetrator of politically motivated human rights violations followed by state agents. The members of Zanu PF perpetrating the violence are mainly from the youth wing, war veterans, Members of Parliament, traditional leaders such as chiefs and headmen. State agents include the Zimbabwe Republic Police (ZRP), Central Intelligence Officers (CIO), the army and government officials. Recently there have been new parties involved in the political arena and these include the Liberty and United Peoples Party (UPP). The total number of perpetrators involved was 682.

Victim analysis June 2007

The reports received by ZPP indicate that the bulk of the victims are members of the opposition MDC (46%). Members of NGOs or human rights activists are also vulnerable to political violence as the report indicates that 27% of the total numbers of victims were from the NGOs 18% were persons with no known political affiliation. The current political environment is highly polarized and those not supporting the ruling party are viewed as 'enemies of the state'. Only a few of the incidences had persons belonging to the ruling party as victims (6%).

HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS – JANUARY – JUNE 2007

In the period between January and June 2007, the Zimbabwe Peace Project has recorded 4122 incidences of human rights violations that are in most instances politically motivated. There were 7 murder cases, 18 cases of rape, 34 cases of food aid discrimination, 69 cases of abduction/kidnapping, 459 cases of torture, 2323 cases of harassment/intimidation, 1141 cases of assault, 152 cases of unlawful detention and one case of a politically motivated suicide. ZPP has reliable information that those being abducted are being tortured at a camp in Mazowe.

The majority of the violations are perpetrated against known and suspected members of the opposition parties with the MDC topping the list, however, there are incidences of human rights violations that are perpetrated mainly by the opposition MDC against known and suspected supporters of the ruling ZANU PF and other opposition parties. The Zimbabwe Peace Project is also cognizant of the fact that there are other incidences that go unreported because the victims would rather not risk reprisals of being outspoken. ZPP recognizes the courage of those victims who have reported violations perpetrated against them. The facts and figures at ZPP's disposal demonstrate that the political temperature is definitely rising with June recording 792 cases up from 671 cases in May.

HALF YEARLY ANALYTICAL REPORT – JANUARY – JUNE 2007

To date January recorded the highest incidences of human rights violations standing at a staggering 832. Of these 633 occurred in the Northern region which comprises Harare/Chitungwiza, Mashonaland West, East and Central and Manicaland and 199 were recorded in the Southern region made up of Bulawayo, Matebeleland North and South, Masvingo and Midlands.

More specifically, 498 cases of harassment/intimidation were recorded, 194 of assault. In January there were four cases of torture, 6 of abduction/ kidnapping, 2 cases of rape and one case of murder.

In January, the nation started the year on a controversial note after the ruling party Annual People's Conference the previous month which had made a proposal to harmonise Presidential and Parliamentary elections in 2010. The proposal sparked outrage from all sectors and some citizens faced harassment/ intimidation, assault for expressing opinion on the matter. While most citizens appreciated that harmonization was a noble idea they felt that the proposal to have elections in 2010 was a ploy by the sitting Head of State to want to extend his term of office through the back door. In the opposition circles, the proposal sparked outrage and it appeared the opposition was ready for a confrontation as they made it clear that come 2008 they were going to the polls.

Operation 'Chikorokoza Chapera' which had been launched in late 2006 continued to take its toll. January also saw the last stages of the preparation for the Chiredzi South by-election which had been slated for February. Election campaigns have always been violent in Zimbabwe and this particular election was no exception, as it saw traditional chiefs threatening villagers with eviction and hunger if they did not vote for the ruling party.

Intra party violence in the opposition MDC had its fair share of incidences recorded but of particular note was intra party violence within the ruling party whose cracks were amplified by the harmonization and elections in 2010 proposal.

In February, there was a marked reduction in cases recorded at 527 with 350 of these being in the Northern region and 177 in the Southern region. Like in January the cases of harassment topped the list at 299 followed by assault recording 155 cases. There were 6 cases of rape, 5 of abduction/kidnapping, 4 of torture and 1 of murder. The significant decrease of incidences in February could be attributed to the banning of rallies and demonstrations which saw the heavy handedness of state security agents fall on citizens who were also subjected to unofficial curfews. Although there was a marked reduction in recorded incidences February experienced cases of people being forced to contribute towards the President's birthday. As the voice of teachers and nurse got louder against their meagre salaries they were responded to with harassment. In Manicaland, the diamond rush saw the police violating the rights of innocent civilians by subjecting them to inhuman body searches for the elusive stone. Women were subjected to searches in their private parts. Citizens in general and teachers specifically were victims of the government and the ruling party as the search for shortwave radios continued in particular Mashonaland East. Grade one pupils in most schools were more than happy to provide information on who they had seen with the said radios.

March 2007 has gone down in history as the most violent month in the period under review not as a result of the recorded cases but because of the intensity of the violations. On March 11, opposition and civil society leaders who were going to attend a prayer meeting organized by Save Zimbabwe Campaign, were detained and tortured in police custody. It was the events of March 11 that saw even SADC looking closely at Zimbabwe resulting in the meeting in Dar es Salaam where President Thabo Mbeki was tasked to initiate dialogue between the ruling party and MDC. Two cases of murder closely related to the March 11 events were recorded. From 500 cases in February, incidences increased to 657 in March. In the Northern region 439 cases were recorded as compared to 218 in the Southern region. Thirteen cases of torture were recorded a significant increase from 4 the previous month. In March there were 27 cases of partisan distribution of food that were recorded. Cases of unlawful detention rose sharply from 19 to 42 and this is explained by the swoops on the opposition offices in search of petrol bombers. In the aftermath of the March 11 events there was a spate of petrol bombings of a police station, a commuter train, a ruling party office in Mbare and the attack of public transport in Harare. A large number of citizens also experienced abuse for putting on either MDC regalia or just the colour red as it is associated with the MDC.

In April, the cases of kidnapping/abduction doubled from 9 in March to 20. There was 1 murder and 3 cases of politically motivated rape. It was in April that saw the heavy handedness of state security agents as they tried to block the ZCTU called stay-away. Government threatened to withdraw the licences of any company that complied with the stay away and most companies could not risk this and thus opened their doors.

In May, cases of harassment went up to 395 from 337 in April. Assault cases recorded went down from 229 in April to 176 in May. There were 17 cases of kidnapping/abduction recorded, 2 of rape and 2 of murder.

In June there has been a marked increase in incidences recorded from 671 in May to 792. Incidences of harassment/intimidation and assault still record the highest. There is an increase in food aid discrimination with 34 incidences recorded. Operation 'Dzikisa mutengo' started in June but its effects were mainly felt in July.

Of the 4122 cases documented between January and June 2727 were violations in the Northern region representing 67% of the total violations.

The trend is the same in all the months that more incidences are recorded in the Northern region more than the Southern. There are more constituencies in the Northern than the Southern. This could have also meant that there is a denser network of ZPP monitors in the Northern region than the Southern as monitors are constituency based monitors in each constituency. Furthermore, there are more 'no go' areas for the opposition in the Northern region than the Southern region. In light of the impending Constitutional Amendment 18 that seeks to increase constituencies, ZPP anticipates more constituencies to the rural areas of the Northern region more than the Southern region.

Harassment/intimidation and assault continue to be ways by which fear is instilled among the citizens. Fear has ensured that Zimbabweans do not participate in the democratic process. The images of battered civil society and opposition leaders after March 11 have refreshed the memory of many who might have forgotten what the Zimbabwean government is capable of. The sight of the images for many in rural and urban areas has meant that they do not want to cross the path of the government and the ruling party if given the choice. The sight of the injuries sustained by the leaders tortured in police custody for some means that those are paths never to be crossed.

The Catholic Bishops' pastoral letter is one other factor that saw the rise in incidences of harassment and intimidation as Catholic priests were targeted. The fact that the state President personally attacked the Bishops made the situation worse.

There are strange cases being recorded since May, for example suspected or known members of the opposition are being denied burial space in their communities by their traditional leaders. For expressing their own opinion and exercise the rights to associate and to choose whom to associate with citizens are now being banished from their places of birth.

There have also been several cases of health staff denying those of a different political affiliation, an opportunity to be treated. In one incident a ruling party member was refused treatment on the basis of his political affiliation while in the other case an opposition MDC supporter was denied the same.

The diamond rush in Manicaland has had its fair share of violations. Women were victims of inhuman searches of their private parts. Some citizens have been hospitalized for injuries sustained when they were assaulted by the police whenever they were found in the area. A mother of two is currently in hospital nursing exploded buttocks sustained when she was assaulted by the police.

METHODOLOGY

This report is based on reports from ZPP long-term community based primary peace monitors (two in each of the 120 electoral constituencies of Zimbabwe), who observe, monitor and record cases of human rights abuse.

The monitors compile reports that are handed over to ZPP Provincial Coordinators who manage ZPP offices in the ten administrative provinces of Zimbabwe.

Upon receipt and verification of the reports from the monitors, the Provincial Coordinators compile provincial monthly monitoring reports, which are then consolidated at the national office, into the ZPP monthly monitoring report. In addition, ZPP reviews relevant literature including acts of parliament, policy documents and newspaper articles.

ZIMBABWE PEACE PROJECT

BACKGROUND & FORMATION

The Zimbabwe Peace Project (ZPP) was conceived shortly after 2000 by a group of Churches and NGOs working or interested in human rights and peace-building initiatives, and was to become a vehicle for civic interventions in a time of political crisis. In particular ZPP sought to monitor and document incidents of human rights violations and politically-motivated breaches of the peace e.g. violence.

Today, ZPP's member organisations include, the Catholic Commission for Justice and Peace (CCJP), Zimbabwe Council of Churches (ZCC), Evangelical Fellowship of Zimbabwe (EFZ), Zimbabwe Election Support Network (ZESN), Counselling Services Unit (CSU), Zimbabwe Liberators' Platform, Zimbabwe Civic Education Trust, ZimRights, Civic Education Network Trust.(CIVNET)

GOAL AND OBJECTIVES OF THE ORGANISATION

ZPP was established with the aim of promoting peaceful co-existence and to help reduce political conflict and violence through monitoring, investigating and researching the causes and nature of violence and circulating widely the results of such activities. The organisation also aims to help resolve politically related conflicts, and to identify victims and perpetrators of such conflicts, the former of whom will be assisted by being given any support they may require, e.g. legal, medical or material assistance. ZPP aims to work in cooperation with any authorities, institutions and individuals to achieve its objectives of curbing violence and upholding human rights.

VISION

To see Zimbabwe transform into a society that cherishes the pursuit and realisation of justice, freedom, peace, human dignity and development.

MISSION

ZPP is registered community based trust that promotes peace through documenting human rights violations and disseminating them to stakeholders and policy makers.

GOAL

To reduce violence and human rights violations through community-based and national monitoring, documentation of cases of human rights abuses, and making partnerships and alliances that tap the expertise and assets of local communities and local and regional organisations that will help the attainment of sustainable peace and democracy in Zimbabwe.

THE OBJECTIVES OF THE ZPP

- To be positioned as a leader in quantitative & qualitative trends, patterns on systematic human rights violations in Zimbabwe
- To be identified as a promoter of peace & campaigner against human rights violations
- To have sufficient capacity that enables ZPP to effectively deliver on its mandate
- To be part of a coalition that shares learning experiences & expertise with like-minded local, regional and international organisations

- To have victims access redress, and perpetrators brought to book
- To have MMR used as reference for perpetrator conviction, victim redress and policy influence by key stakeholders

VALUES

ZPP believes in and upholds the following moral principles and standards:

- Democracy and good governance
- Rule of law
- Probity & accountability of public office
- Factual & credible documentation of human rights excesses
- The protection of individual group rights and freedoms, and the human worth.
- Non partisanship and impartiality in dealing with situations of conflict and human rights abuses
- -Gender sensitivity and Equality of all mankind.

ACTIVITIES

The organisation is engaged in the following activities to achieve its goals:

- Monitoring all forms of violence and human rights abuse and collecting data on conditions, practices and policies which affect the human rights, freedoms, dignity and livelihood of people, e.g. the availability or otherwise of food;
- Recording and documenting cases of conflict and human rights violations;
- Networking strategically with other organisations able to assist victims and perpetrators;
- Conducting follow-up investigations to gather enough evidence to build up water tight cases for purposes of litigation;
- Ensuring that certain verified cases of violence and human rights violations are litigated and perpetrators are punished; as part of an anti-impunity drive through the courts
- Providing basic counselling services for both victims and perpetrators of violence and human rights abuses;
- Training monitors
- Referring of victims of violence and human rights abuses to organisations better placed to offer relevant assistance;
- Researching on causes, degree, effects of violence and human rights abuses, and ways of eliminating and avoiding conflict and human rights violations;
- Promoting dispute resolution and conflict management interventions;
- Issuing policy briefs to influence policy decisions deterring the culture or institution of violence and human rights abuses.

UNIQUENESS

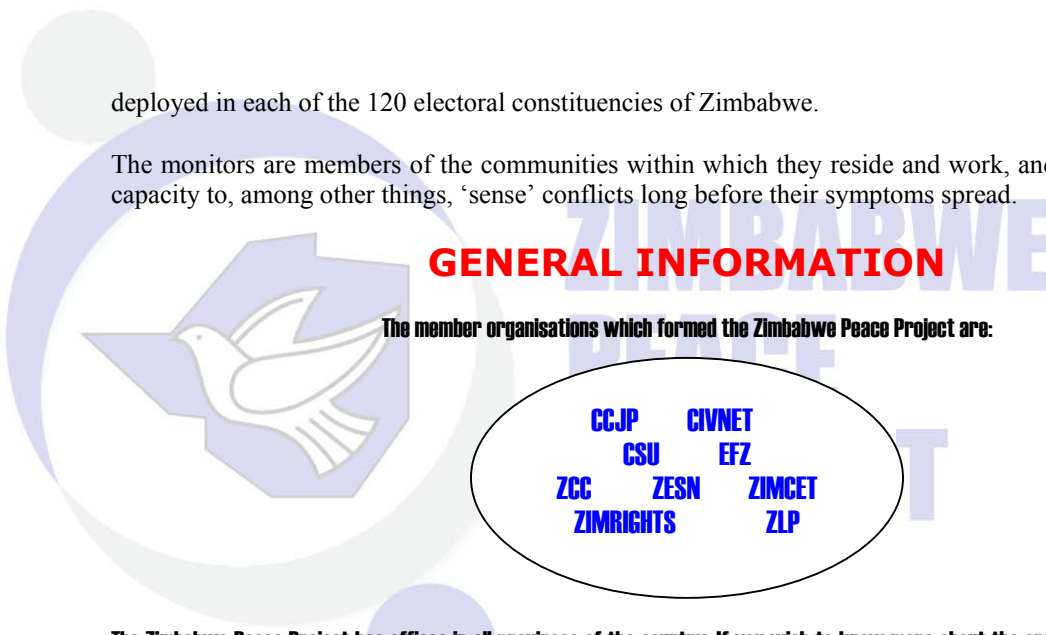

The organisation's strength lies in the fact that it is perhaps the only permanent community-based civil society organisation with a country-wide grassroots presence. ZPP has two trained primary monitors deployed in each of the 120 electoral constituencies of Zimbabwe.

The monitors are members of the communities within which they reside and work, and this gives ZPP the capacity to, among other things, 'sense' conflicts long before their symptoms spread.
