

Horsetrading: How electoral pact failure led to mdc losses 2008
Anonymous contributor
July 23, 2013

As it looks as though any form of reconciliation between the two MDC factions will not happen, most Zimbabweans would want to minimise the electoral damage of the two factions opposing each other in a Westminster Constituency /First Past the Post system.

Ideally the two formations could agree not to challenge each other in the few constituencies where it may significantly advantage Zanu PF. Obviously this could be difficult to agree on. Difficult, but not impossible.

However the benefits to each party hugely outweigh the costs. (83 advantageous situations to 7 possibly disadvantageous situations)

Mutare South is a typical example:

Mutare South	Chiri Gideon Chamuka	Independent	362
	Gombakomba Sarah Faith	MDC	2089
	Kanzama Fred	ZANU PF	7606
	Saunyama Robert	MDC Tsvangirai	5705

In cases such as these (and there are many of these) , Zanu PF has won the seat, thanks to the MDC's divisions. It isn't easy however to convince a candidate that they can't stand in an election, even if it is for a greater good. It is my belief that it was actually the complete inability of the two MDC formations to formulate a mechanism to choose a candidate in constituencies where they both had structures that played a large part in preventing any attempts at MDC unity.

However in a case like Mutare South, a reasonable person could ask- has the MDC-N trebled its support in this constituency?

The MDC-N also lost seats because of the split; for example:

Lupane West	Khumalo Martin	ZANU PF	3311
	Ncube Vigilance	MDC	3044
	Ndlovu Sylvester	MDC Tsvangirai	2005

There were many seats where the split made no difference to Zanu's fortunes; either because Zanu was very weak in that constituency:

Luveve	Mdlongwa Esaph	MDC	3 178
	Moyo Getrude	ZANU PF	940
	Moyo Reggie	MDC Tsvangirai	3 325
	Mujuru Kidwell	Independent	697
	Phiri Simba	FDU	146
		% Poll	32.80

Or because ZANU PF were overwhelmingly strong in that constituency:

OPEN Mt Darwin West	Mujuru joice Teurai Ropa	ZANU PF	13236
	Gora Madzudzo	MDC Tsvangirai	1792
	Shanya Joseph	MDC	887
		% Poll	53.94

Using the results of 2008, if MDC-T were to allow MDC N to stand unopposed in 19 constituencies, and MDC N were to allow MDC to run unopposed in 84 constituencies this would result in:

71 Advantageous situations for MDC T and only 4 possibly disadvantageous situations

12 advantageous situations for MDC N and only 3 possibly disadvantageous situations.

Advantageous being defined as being allowed to stand unopposed when either that MDC section or Zanu PF are (roughly) within 30% of each other. Eg:

Gokwe MDC_T ONLY	Ganyani Linet	MDC Tsvangirai	4533
	Mangami Dorothy	ZANU PF	5570
	Penduka Limmu	MDC	1273

Disadvantageous being defined as not being allowed to field a candidate when that party had (roughly) more than 30% of the winning vote in 2008 . As I only identified 7 possibly disadvantageous situations, I list them below.

Firstly those disadvantageous to MDC T

Bubi MDC ONLY	Goosen Alex Peter	MDC	3755
	Jourbert David Andrew	MDC Tsvangirai	2334

	Sibanda Clifford Cameroon	ZANU PF	7413
		% Poll	41.92

Lupane West MDC ONLY	Khumalo Martin	ZANU PF	3311
	Ncube Vigilance	MDC	3044
	Ndlovu Sylvester	MDC Tsvangirai	2005
		% Poll	37.09

Gwanda North MDC ONLY	Matutu Leonard	ZANU PF	3273
	Mnkandla Thandeko	MDC	3645
	Sibanda Beki	MDC Tsvangirai	2509
		% Poll	41.61

Mangwe MDC ONLY	Moyo Mkhosi Edward Tshotsho	MDC	3928
	Ncube Luke Daniel	MDC Tsvangirai	2294
	Ncube Mafesi Rolendi	ZANU PF	2627
		% Poll	26.74

And those disadvantageous to MDC N

Matobo North MDC_T ONLY	Dube Kotsho L.	ZANU PF	3102
	Moyo Lovemore	MDC Tsvangirai	3503
	Ndlovu Albert	MDC	1566
	Sibanda Marvellous	Independent	432
		% Poll	37.32%
Matobo South MDC_T ONLY	Ndebele Gabriel	MDC Tsvangirai	3226
	Nkomo Nicholas	ZANU PF	2858
	Sibanda Clemency	MDC	1452

Vungu MDC T ONLY,debatable	Gasela Renson	MDC	2160
	Madubeko Josephat	ZANU PF	4287
	Moyo Mark	MDC Tsvangirai	2518
	Sabola David	MDC Tsvangirai	1023

Now a major problem with working out the formula based on the 2008 election results is that things have changed, and all 3 political parties will claim they have massively gained support. In some constituencies this may have happened. In others, a reasonable person might find it unlikely that one party will have increased its support by more than 500%..

Another problem is that agreeing among the MDC factions to allow each other to go unopposed in their strongholds will further strengthen a tribal and geographical emphasis amongst the parties, particularly MDC –N. However the majority of seats in the country would be open for all 3 parties to field candidates in. Furthermore, if MDC T were to allow MDC N to go unopposed in Mudzi South , the MDC N might win its first seat in Mashonaland, something that seems unlikely otherwise.:

Open or MDC M ONLY Mudzi South	Kadera John	MDC	2735
	Kanomakuyu Milton	MDC Tsvangirayi	2735
	Mariwo Chamanga	UPP	182
	Navaya Eric	ZANU PF	8202

And even within constituencies where one or other faction were not fielding a candidate, that faction should still maintain its structures there, ideally supporting the other MDC's candidate.

I have only looked very cursorily at the statistics of 2008, and made some off the cuff recommendations of where it wouldn't matter if both MDC factions fielded candidates (labelled "OPEN") or where it would be advisable in my brief opinion that only MDC T fielded candidates (Labelled MDC T Only) or MDC-N only field candidates (labelled MDC –N only) .

A final list would be the have to be the result of much further thought, research and discussion and negotiation in good faith. We have only done a cursory proposal as I fear the arguments over possibility of 7 disadvantageous situations will scupper the possibility of 83 advantageous situations, but if both sides were interested we could do further work.

It was sobering to see the same party fielding two candidates in some constituencies, in 2008 always to the detriment of that party.

By Province here is a breakdown of the seats where we recommend an "open" election, or whether we recommend only MDC-T candidate stand, or only a MDC N candidate stand.
